

Mariana Dyakova, MD, MPH, PhD, FFPH

Presently a consultant in public health medicine and deputy director (international lead) for Policy, Research and International Development Directorate in Public Health Wales. Mariana is leading the Welsh International Health Co-ordination Centre and continues her academic role as an honorary clinical lecturer at the University of Warwick. Her research and applied interests are in the areas of European health policy; evidence translation and implementation into policy and practice; sustainable development and health; cardiovascular risk assessment and prevention; multimorbidity and integrated care; public health communication and media. Originally from Bulgaria (born 1978), Mariana gained her academic, policy and practical experience across Europe. She has a medical degree from the Medical University of Sofia and her postgraduate training continued in Bulgaria, Germany, the Netherlands and the UK. She was actively involved into public health capacity building in South Eastern Europe and a variety of European health projects.

From 2010 Mariana has been working for the University of Warwick, Public Health England, the National Health Service (NHS) and the local government in the UK. She also took a position as a Technical Officer for policy and governance for health and wellbeing in the World Health Organization (WHO) Regional Office for Europe, Copenhagen (2013/14).

Along the course of her work, Mariana has been actively involved in the Forum for Public Health in South Eastern Europe, ASPHER, EUPHA, EHMA, the WHO Healthy Cities and Regions for Health Network, EuroHealthNet and the European Health Forum Gastein.

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/mariana-dyakova-a809a915>