

Prof. Oleg Lozan, MD, MPH, PhD

Born in 1970 in Balti, Republic of Moldova.

Oleg Lozan is a Medical Doctor by background and holds the degree of Master of Public Health from the School of Public Health Management and PhD from the State Medical and Pharmaceutical University in Moldova. He is also University Professor at the School of Public Health Management in Moldova.

He is a recognized leader and expert in public health and health management specialist with proven experience of successfully managing national level health programs, teaching and research projects in the health sector.

Since 2003 he is founder and director of the School of Public Health and Management and undertakes the overall leadership, management and supervision activities.

During 2008 – 2009 as Deputy Minister of Health he promoted a New Law of Public Health in Republic of Moldova. Also developed and implemented strategies and policies in the field of public health and health services with direct involvement in health sector reforms.

Since 2013 he holds the position of Vice-Rector of the State Medical and Pharmaceutical University in Moldova Responsible for strategic development and high technology development in the University.

He has extensive experience working with the World Health Organization, the World Bank, the Global Fund and other multilateral and bilateral international institutions in Moldova. He served as President of the National Public Health and Management Association.